WORKING WITH NEGATIVE GREEN PENDULUMS

Pendulums using Negative Green Vibrations are once of the most unique and the most rarely used pendulums in North America. In Europe, though, for centuries, those pendulums were the leading tools in fighting the most vicious and lethal illnesses. Dowsers used them also for most of the precision-sensitive work, such as finding the exact location of water to dig a well, treasure hunting etc.

As the shortest wave known today, Negative Green Vibration is so penetrative that there are no isolators to protect ourselves from it. Hence, people suffer from the consequences of Geopathic Stress, and in turn, cancer is called the most pressing health challenge of our times.

With time, when the knowledge about Golden Light became more apparent, and dowsers cared more about their safety, the knowledge and usage of Negative Green Pendulums diminished. It seems like it is time to revise our attitude toward it and bring those pendulums back to light. It is also time to gather knowledge about their hidden in Sacred Geometry shapes power and practical application.

- Where Osiris's and Karnak's strength is coming from?
- Why usage of Electrical Aspects of Negative green so crucial to those pendulums?

When we learn about the nature of Negative Green and safety precautions, we may gain the most valuable tools for achieving our goals faster and smoother way. What we need is to know and remember Three Rules governing the work of Negative Green Pendulums.

But some still ask: "Why then learn about it and even attempt to use it? Why bother?"

The answer is simple. Everyone who knows the nature and abilities of this vibration and the power of these pendulums knows that there are no better tools to:

- Communicate with higher dimensions
- Send information through time and space
- Increase telepathic communication.

That's how Ancient Egyptians used them. But there is also a considerable advantage of using those shapes to counteract some illnesses and balance our health.
